BRITAIN IN FINAL DAVIS CUP VICTORY OVER AUSTRALIA

Austin Beats McGrath In Straight Sets.
BRILLIANT TENNIS BY BOTH PLAYERS.

D. P. Turnbull of the defeated Australian Davis Cup team.

London, Yesterday.
Britain qualified to meet America in the Inter-Zone Final of the Davis Cup to-day when Bunny Austin beat Vivian McGrath, the 17-year-old Australian player, by 6-4, 7-5, 6-3 at Wimbledon.

The winners of the Anglo-American clash, which will be staged in Paris on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, will meet France in the Challenge Round in Paris next week.

McGrath led 4-1 in the first set, sometimes leaving Austin standing with fast forehand drives and his two-handed backhanders.

Austin, however, played inspired tennis at this period, driving with wonderful length and rhythm and coming up to volley frequently. He was in devastating form and reeled off game after game to secure the set at 6-4.

McGrath led 2-0, 3-1 and 4-2 in the second set, but Austin levelled at 4-4, and, winning McGrath's service, he led 5-4. McGrath, however, responded well and 5-all was called.

Then McGrath made a series of mistakes on his forehand to drop the set at 7-5.

Austin's ground shots on the forehand worried the Australian in the third set.

McGrath tried drop shots, but was outwitted by Austin, who adopted similar tactics with success.—Reuter.

Two years ago Britain eliminated America in the Inter-Zone Final, but succumbed to France by 3 matches to 2. On that occasion Cochet won both his singles while Borotra lost both his. Hughes and Kingsley lost in the doubles match.

The teams which will be on view during the last fortnight of this international event will probably be:

Britain—H. W. Austin, F. J. Perry, G. P. Hughes, and H. G. N. Lee.
America—E. Vines, W. Allison, G. M. Lott, and J. Van Ryn.
France—H. Cochet, J. Borotra, J. Brugnon, and M. Bernard.

CONFISCATION OF PROPERTY

Hitler's Drastic New Laws.

Berlin, Yesterday.
The Hitler Cabinet has adopted new laws providing for the confiscation of property of "Enemies of the State," including organisations and private persons inciting against Germany from abroad, and Germans living abroad who are disloyal to the State or who refuse to return to Germany when summoned, including prominent Socialist leaders living in exile.

The formation of new parties is made an offence of treason.—Reuter.

ENGLAND XI FOR W. INDIES SECOND TEST

Three Changes From Lord's Team.
LANGRIDGE, BOWES AND WYATT.

London, Yesterday.
The English Test match Selection Committee have made three changes in the victorious English eleven at Lord's for the second Test match against the West Indies at Old Trafford next Saturday.

James Langridge, who is making his debut in international cricket, Bob Wyatt, vice-captain of the triumphant M.C.C. team in Australia, and Bowes, the all-England fast bowler, replace Maurice Turnbull, Leyland and G. O. Allen.

The team is as follows:
D. R. Jardine (Surrey) (Captain)
R. E. S. Wyatt (Warwick)
C. F. Walters (Worcester)
R. W. V. Robins (Middlesex)
Sutcliffe (Yorkshire)
Hammond (Gloucester)
Ames (Kent)
Langridge (Sussex)
Verity (Yorkshire)
Macaulay (Yorkshire)
Bowes (Yorkshire)

The West Indies, who were beaten by an innings and 27 runs in the first Test at Lord's, will probably be represented by C. A. Roach, I. Barrow, G. Headley, E. L. G. Hoad, G. C. Grant (captain), O. C. da Costa, C. A. Merry, E. Achong, L. N. Constantine, E. A. Martindale and L. Griffith.

The fact that Nelson Cricket Club have released L. N. Constantine for the match should greatly strengthen the tourists' batting and bowling.

Constantine is a dashing batsman, a fast bowler of outstanding merits, and a fieldman described by many as the "world's best."

The English selection has caused little surprise, though it was thought possible that Bakeswell would be given Walters' place as Sutcliffe's partner in view of his amazing success this season.

Strong in batting the side possesses two fast bowlers in Bowes and Macaulay, and two excellent trundlers in Verity and James Langridge. Robins, Hammond and Wyatt complete the attack.—Reuter.

PEACE GROUPS TO CONFER.

Lord Marley Sails For Shanghai.

Marseilles, Yesterday.
Lord Marley, President of the World Committee against War, sailed for Shanghai yesterday on the M.M. steamer, "Andre Lebon," with a large international delegation to the forthcoming World Conference against War, to be held at Yokohama.

Lord Marley will preside over the Conference.—Reuter.

AIR ARMADA LEAVES

24 FLYING BOATS HOP OFF FOR CHICAGO

15-Hour Stop-Over At Montreal.

FINAL STAGE OF FLIGHT FROM ROME.

Montreal, Yesterday.

After a stay of 15 hours in Montreal for refuelling and overhauling of their planes, the members of the Italian Air Armada, in 24 flying boats, took off by the St. Lawrence River from the St. Hubert air port for Chicago, at 10.14 a.m. (Eastern Standard Time), on the last hop of their Rome-Chicago flight.

The arrival of the Armada at the World Fair at Chicago will be the most spectacular incident since the opening of the Fair, and tremendous public interest has been aroused.

It is expected that approximately 500,000 people will gather along The Lake front to welcome General Balbo's squadrons.—Reuter.

Seven Stages.
The flight was made in the following stages:

Orbetello, Amsterdam	750 miles
Amsterdam, Londonderry	525
Londonderry, Reykjavik (Iceland)	820
Reykjavik, Cartwright (Labrador)	1,500
Cartwright, Shediac (New Brunswick)	625
Shediac, Montreal	400
Montreal, Chicago	850

On their return flight, General Balbo plans to visit New York before flying over the Atlantic Ocean, via the Azores, with an intermediate stop in Spain.

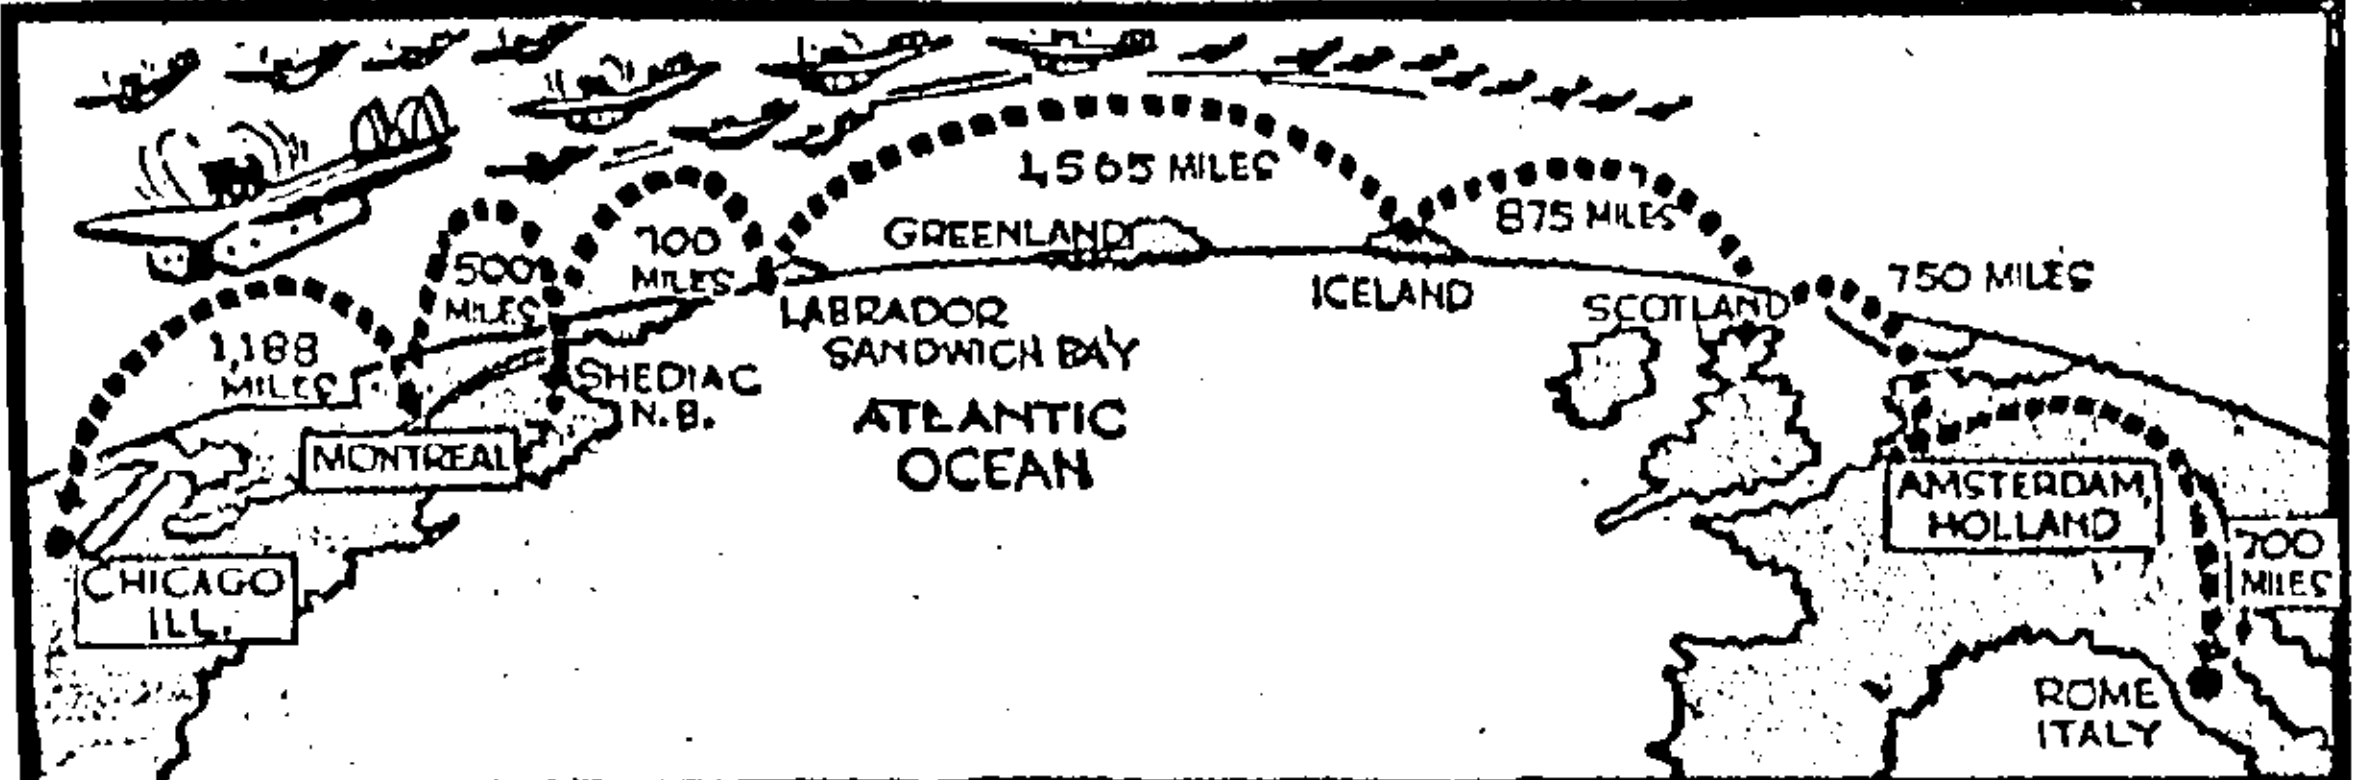

The attempt, which was intended principally to prove the worth of long formation flights in comparatively easy stages and scientifically prepared, took almost two years of labourious research studies in several countries.

Careful Preparation.
For months past, Italian officers have been stationed all along the route jotting down meteorological notes at great length. These were cabled back to General Balbo in most cases. Special attention was paid to atmospheric phenomena at Sandwich Bay and its vicinity. In fact, it is said, the most dangerous stretch that confronted the Italian fliers lies along the southern coast of Labrador.

For weeks, the Italian Air Ministry was informed daily on weather conditions prevailing throughout the scheduled route. General Balbo thereby concluded that not more than 15 days were available in the year when the fog-ridden coast of Labrador stood the best chances of being cleared and allowed a greater degree of success. This favourable time period usually extends each year from May 28 to June 15, it was said.

Mysterious Commander.
"Meteorology," he said, "was the mysterious commander of our flight. The most dangerous stage of the flight was the water jump from Iceland to Labrador, firstly because of the fog and secondly because of contrary winds."

In this respect, General Balbo remarked before the start of the flight: "I would much prefer to cross the Atlantic from Newfoundland to Europe four times than make the Reykjavik-Sandwich Bay only once. The 1,500 miles water (Continued on Page 14.)

The route taken by the Italian Air Armada, which left for Chicago from Montreal yesterday. Leaving Orbetello on July 2, the planes reached Amsterdam the same day, leaving the next morning for Londonderry, Ireland. After a slight delay, they took off for Reykjavik, Iceland arriving there on July 5. Bad weather held the fliers at the Iceland port until July 12 when they crossed the Atlantic to Cartwright, Labrador. On July 13 they made the hop to Shediac, New Brunswick, Montreal being reached on July 14. The final hop to Chicago was made yesterday.

WILEY POST STARTS SOLO WORLD FLIGHT

Five Stops Planned Six Days.

HOPS OFF FOR BERLIN.

New York, Yesterday.
Wiley Post, the American airman, took off from Orquo this morning on an attempt to fly solo round the world in six days, using the same machine in which he and Harold Gatty established the round-the-world record in June, 1931.

The plane is now equipped with robot control.

Post been waiting since the beginning of the month while the necessary adjustments were made to his compass and for the weather to turn favourable. Post plans a six-day flight to break the record he and Gatty have set. He expects to alight only at Berlin, Moscow, Khabarovsk, Fairbanks and Edmonton.—Reuter.

YET ANOTHER FLIGHT.

New York-Lithuania.

New York, Yesterday.
The two Lithuanian airmen, Captain Darius and M. Girenas, hopped off from here, this morning on an attempt to make a non-stop flight to Kovno, to capital of Lithuania.—Reuter.

C.E.R. DISPUTE PERSISTS

Freight Cars Held Up At Pograditchnaya.

Manchukuo Refuses Settlement

Moscow Yesterday.
The attempts to obtain the exchange of freight-cars between the Ussuri Railway and the Chinese Eastern Railway at Pograditchnaya, appear to be fruitless.

The Chairman of the Administrative Board of the C.E.R., Mr. Li Shao-gen, has informed the foreign Consuls who attempted to obtain settlement from him, that the Government of Manchukuo will not agree to an exchange of cars, many of which have been held up at Pograditchnaya ever since the suspension of through traffic between the C.E.R. and the Ussuri Railway lines.

As a partial solution, however, Mr. Li Shao-gen proposed that the goods belonging to foreign exporters should be returned to Harbin by the C.E.R. free of charge. They could then be sent to Dairen.—Reuter.

JAPAN ACCEPTS SILVER RESOLUTION.

No Support For Sugar Proposals As A Disinterested Nation.

Tokyo, Yesterday.
Count Uchida the Japanese Foreign Minister, today instructed the Japanese delegation to the World Economic Conference, in London, to accept the silver resolution, but to refuse the sugar resolution on the ground that Japan is not an important factor in the sugar trade.—Reuter's Pacific Service.

NANKING CRUISER IN SHANGHAI

"Ninghai" Returns From Hong Kong Waters.

TWO STILL UNSIGHTED

Shanghai, Yesterday.

The Nanking cruiser, Ning Hai, which proceeded to the South early last week, and which made a very brief stay in Hong Kong waters, returned to Shanghai at 10 o'clock this morning. The other two cruisers, the Hai Yung and Yat Sen, which made the southern journey together with the Ning Hai, have not yet been sighted.

The movements of the three Nanking cruisers, had been shrouded in mystery since the vessels left Hong Kong.—Reuter.

Canton Reports Of Navy Situation.

Canton, Yesterday.

The three Nanking cruisers Ning Hai, Yat Sen and Hai Yung are said to have left Kwangtung waters in the direction of Fukien. Fishermen in the vicinity of Macao have not seen any trace of these warships, however.

While the exact whereabouts of the three cruisers is shrouded in mystery, it is reliably reported that the Nanking vessels are going to Amoy for coaling. These ships attempted to persuade the Hai Chi, Hai Shen and Shao Ho to return (Continued on Page 14.)

BRITISH LOAN TO CHINA?

Report Denied By Mr. Sun Fo.

Shanghai, Yesterday.

Mr. Sun Fo and his mother are leaving for Tientsin shortly to spend the hot season there, returning within three weeks. Mr. Sun Fo has issued a denial of the report that negotiations were conducted by Mr. T. V. Soong in London for a British loan.—Reuter.

DEVELOPMENT OF CHINA BY THE POWERS

League To Offer Co-operation.

ENORMOUS POSSIBILITIES FOR THE FUTURE

London, Yesterday.

Enormous possibilities for the future of China are stated to be involved at the special meeting of the League Council Committee on Technical Co-operation in China, to be held in Paris on Tuesday next and at which several important League officials now in London, will attend.

The so-called Japanese menace is alleged to have stimulated the interests of certain Powers in developing China in a most liberal manner and for seeking definite machinery before maintaining the Open Door policy.

It is contemplated that the Committee will form a permanent liaison body to maintain contact between China and the League, so that any demands for co-operation and system may be organised promptly.—Reuter.

FOUR POWER PACT SIGNED

Agreement Concluded At Rome.

IMPORTANT GUARANTEES FOR PEACE.

Rome, Yesterday.

The Four-Power Pact was signed here to-day by Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy.

The following is the summary of the Four Power Pact.
The preamble declares that the principal aim of the Pact is to give more effect to the procedure established by the League Covenant, with proviso decisions of the four Powers not to infringe the rights of other States.

Under Article One, Britain, France, Italy and Germany agree to collaborate.

Article Two stipulates for the exchange of views, particularly in view of applying the provisions of Article 10, dealing with the maintenance of territorial status quo, Article 16, dealing with sanctions in the case of aggression and Article 19, dealing with the revision of Treaties. U.S. DOLLAR STEADY

SATURDAY'S USUAL CALM AT CONFERENCE

Desirability Of Later Discussion.

VIEWS OF SUB-COMMISSION INVITED.

London, Yesterday.

The usual Saturday morning calm prevailed at the World Economic Conference headquarters to-day. No meetings were held.

The only occurrence to cause a ripple of interest was the letter issued by Dr. Colijn, of Holland, Chairman of the Economic Commission, requesting that the final reports of the Sub-Commission be lodged by July 21, for the winding up of the proceedings and inviting it to express its opinion on the desirability of continuing discussions later.

The Foreign Exchange Market is equally serene, only the ordinary commercial business passing.

United States dollars moved between the narrow limits of 4.78 and 4.77½, closing at the latter figure.

Gold currencies, in relation to sterling, were quietly steady.—Reuter.

U.S. Bi-Lateral Tariffs.

FOREIGN TRADE ADVISORY BOARD FORMED.

Washington, Yesterday.
The United States State Department is organising a "Foreign Trade Advisory Board," headed by Mr. Charles Barnes, chief of the Treaty Division, to facilitate the forthcoming bi-lateral tariff discussions.

Mr. Phillips, acting Secretary of State, announces that the Argentine and Colombia have expressed their willingness to enter trade negotiations.—Reuter.

TURKEY'S NEW FACTORY

Blow To British Textile Manufacturers.

Istanbul, Yesterday.

It is feared that British textile manufacturers importing textiles into Turkey will be hard hit when the new factory at Kaisakich, Anatolia, equipped with machinery from Russia, starts production.

It is hoped to start next year. The factory is designed to produce 32,000,000 yards of cloth per month and will be the first of several factories.—Reuter.

LOCAL BROKER IN COURT

Assaulted His Concubine.

ALLEGES PROVOCATION

A local broker, Mr. Leung Hin Ting, age 42, was charged at the Central Police Court yesterday morning with assaulting his concubine, Yung Ng Mui.

In evidence, the accused stated that on Thursday morning they quarrelled because she would not look after one of the children who was crying.

The broker also stated that this was a regular occurrence in his home, and he alleged that she frequently left the children all day to go out to gamble.

Her refusal Thursday morning to look after the child provoked him to such an extent that he lost his temper and struck her many times.

His Worship—How long have you lived with her?

Defendant—Nineteen years.

His Worship—How many children have you had by her?

Defendant—I cannot remember how many children there have been.

Most of them died.

The broker was bound over for 12 months on a $100.00 bond, and was fined $10.00.

LOCAL CONSULAR APPOINTMENTS.

New Representative For Germany.

Senor Trinidad Eugenio Lacayo, Honorary Nicaraguan Consul in Hong Kong resumed charge of the Nicaraguan Consulate on July 10, it is announced in the Government Gazette.

His Excellency the Governor has also been pleased to recognise, provisionally and pending instructions from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Senor Lacayo as Honorary Consul for Mexico and the Republic of San Salvador in Hong Kong.

His Excellency the Governor has been pleased to recognise, provisionally, and pending instructions from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Herr H. Gipperich as Consul for Germany in Hong Kong, announces the Government Gazette.

COUNCIL VACANCIES

Temporary Members Approved.

His Majesty the King has been pleased to approve the provisional appointment of the Hon. Mr. C. G. S. Mackie to be temporarily an unofficial member of the Executive Council in the place of the Hon. Sir William Shenton, who is temporarily absent from the Colony.

The provisional appointment of the Hon. Mr. Paul Lauder to be temporarily an unofficial member of the Legislative Council in the place of the Hon. Sir William Shenton, has also been approved.

$2,000 FINE.

Woman Found With 6,000 Heroin Pills.

A fine of $2,000, in default of eight months' imprisonment, was imposed on Lee Yung-chi, at the Central Police Court yesterday morning, for the possession of 6,000 heroin pills.

She was arrested at the Tai Hing Wharf on July 13, when a revenue searcher found the heroin pills in two ordinary paper bags she was carrying.

Revenue Officer R. O. Grimmett prosecuted.

DEPORTEE GAOLED.

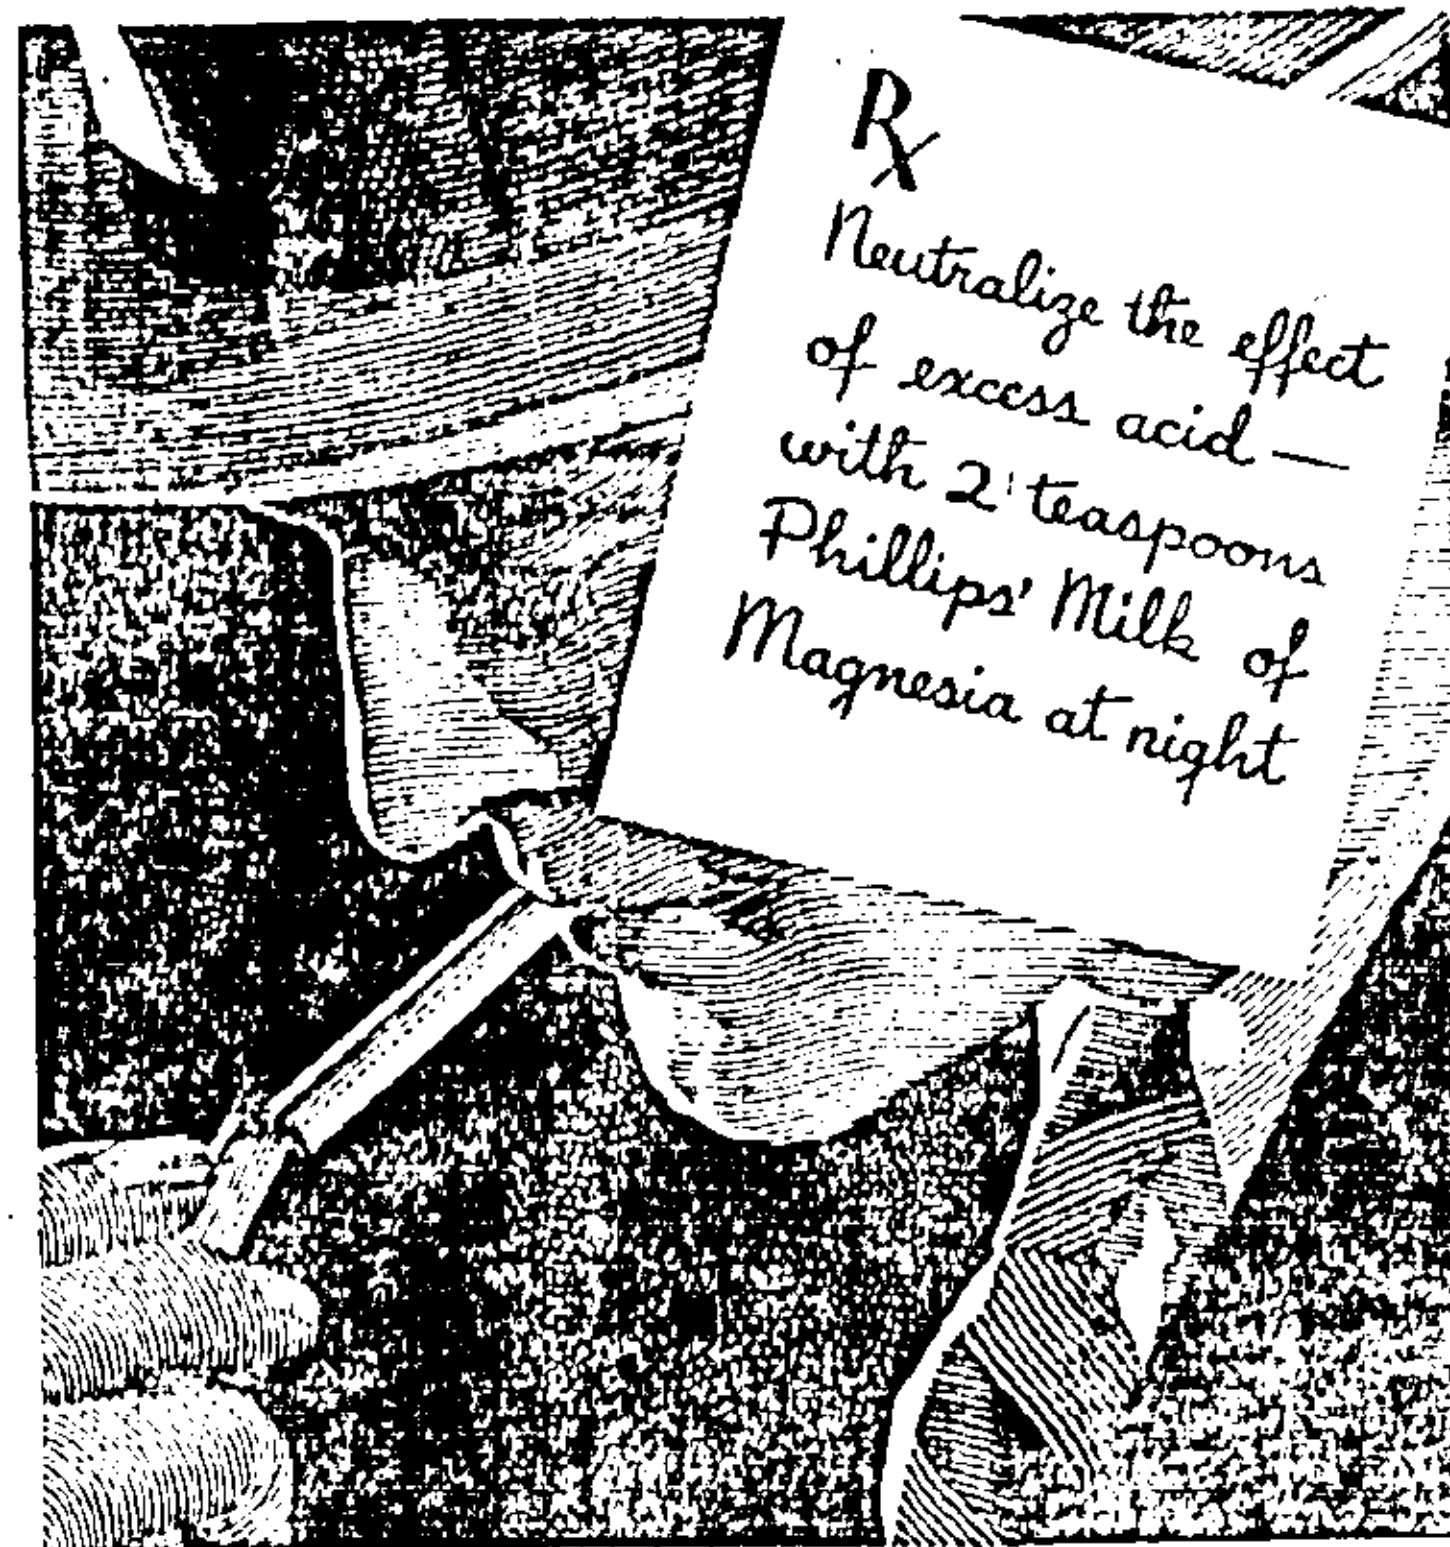

Deceptive Appearance

Ip Wai, 27, was yesterday morning sentenced to 12 months' hard labour by Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Central Magistracy, for a breach of the Deportation Ordinance.

Inspector Vincent, said that the accused, had been banished for 10 years from 1923.

The Court remarked on the prisoner's excellent appearance, but Inspector Vincent said the prisoner's trousers, which were out of His Worship's view provided disillusionment. (Laughter).

ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE

"STYLE," as applied to the Packard, has always meant something more. Associated with it, logically and distinctively, is the other important word, "enduring"—a Packard characteristic for a third of a century.

So gradually and correctly has Packard style evolved—like the slow unfolding of a beautiful flower—it has never been at the mercy of that capricious mood which too often alienates to-morrow's style from that of to-day.

YOUR CHILDREN'S FUTURE

Sir Truby King the famous New Zealand founder of the Child Welfare work of the world said "A long and healthy life, or a short and unhealthy life is determined at infancy" and that the food, containing life force given to a child in its early years will ensure a healthy life. Life builds life.

Snowflake, Full Cream evaporated milk produced in New Zealand, the Empire's Dairyland with double strength is indispensable to the growth of the child and to the health of the adult. For Snowflake there is no substitute. For the infant this milk is a perfect food; for the growing child this product of the sunny pastures of New Zealand is an essential food also for adults. Food is not merely "something to chew". It must furnish material for the growth and repair of the body, material for body heat, and energy and material for use by the body as regulating substances. Snowflake milk fulfills all these requirements. It contains the mineral salts which serve as a source of heat and energy for muscular activity and it contains mineral matter which has a regulatory effect and which enters into the composition of the body especially the bones and teeth.

An eminent medical scientist, who spent many years in New Zealand doing valuable research work, said he found in Vitamin D, a preventive, and in some cases even a cure for the so called degenerative diseases including influenza and pneumonia. This scientist prescribed a diet to include quantities of a milk product made during the Spring season. Snowflake evaporated milk, and condensed milk are made at this season, therefore they are abnormally rich in this Sunlight Vitamin. It builds up the bone and prevents tooth decay. Milk of the Snowflake quality can only be made from grass eating animals like the cows of New Zealand who live all the year round on these sunny pastures.

So, New Zealand, the Empire's Dairyland, in bringing Snowflake milk to this country is the agent of evolution in China; co-operating with nature and improving upon her early technique, to grow better, stronger, healthier, long lived and more useful human creatures.

PARIS STYLES BRIDAL GOWN

Costume Of Bright Red Worn At Ceremony.

Paris (U. P.) WHEN Mile. de Gaudier d'Hesing, daughter of the Belgian Ambassador to France, became the bride of the Comte de Mortemar, she wore a Worth costume in a bright red soft smooth-surfaced wool. It had a plain skirt and a jacket with wide bell-shaped sleeves above a long, light-fitting cuff. A scarf collar was attached by gold buckles to the neck, and a peplum. The blouse was in soft white chiffon and small red hat completed the outfit. This was her civil service costume.

For the religious ceremony the bride wore a white satin wedding gown from the same house, draped in the front of the bodice with long tight sleeves and the train cut in one piece with the skirt.

HINTS FOR EYE MAKE - UP

Fairer Complexions In Demand.

TO make up eyes successfully a well-known beauty specialist recommends two shades of eye-shadow, one to match the colour of the eyes, with an over-shadow of contrasting shade "to give life and sparkle."

Here is an amusing hint: a touch of green shadow gives freshness to the Summer make-up, which, of course, tends to sun-tan. But, beware of too swarthy a skin; it is whispered that fairer complexions are going to be in demand.

SCRATCHES ON FURNITURE

SCRATCHES on furniture often present a difficult problem during spring cleaning. They are most unsightly and, when once incurred, are rather hard to remove permanently. The best method is to apply a little salad oil to the furniture and massage it well into the scratches.

Should the scratches be deep and the salad oil not prove sufficiently successful, then a little vinegar should be mixed with it. Apply this to the surface and the scratches will quickly disappear.

Scratches on mahogany furniture are removed more successfully if they are treated with a little linseed oil in place of the salad oil. After treatment, polish the furniture in the usual manner.

HOLLYWOOD FASHION NOTES

"Shorts" Are Popular.

Pyjamas ON THE WANE

NOTES from Hollywood's fashion market quotes "shorts" in the lead with pyjamas selling "low" in the speculation of sports clothes.

Gilbert Adrian, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer style broker, cites this fluctuation from "low" to "high" as due to the active pursuits indulged in by the film actresses when off screen duty.

"Being hampered by clothes in their film activities, the young ladies

SUMMER MILLINERY STYLES

More Becoming Than Spring Hats.

SUMMER millinery shows a line which is decidedly more becoming than the extremely high, close-fitting effect of spring hats. Though cups and berets of material and pliable straw still remain, most of the new hats have brims, the lines of which conform to lower and softer crowns.

For the early summer wear hats with small tailored or slightly dipping brims have very shallow and square crowns, worn well towards one side and slightly forwards, or pinched high to a point at the back and caught low in front with a knot of petersham or ribbon velvet.

They may be of leghorn, hand-sewn pedal or pedaline, paper-panama, or a soft fine felt, with stitched edge, in a weight equally suitable to town or country.

In pastel colours they look well with dark suits and in matching colours with flannel suits. They may be shaped into many ways on the head; the shallow square crown with a slightly dipping brim, or the pinched crown of Tyrolean appearance with brim sharply rolled up at the back.

of Hollywood advocate the freedom of abbreviated clothes for their play hours," Adrian says. "They find them more adaptable to their needs than the more cumbersome pyjamas."

Joan Crawford is one of the chief exponents of "shorts" for sportswear, and for her leisure hours prefers a pair of those "Hawaiian" pants of white duck that lace over the hips. She wears them over her skintight bathing suits or tops them with one of those tie-around bandanna kerchiefs that leave the back exposed.

Maureen O'Sullivan also takes a stand in favour of "shorts"—choosing to smash an overhead to the back-hand corner while wearing a pair of linen "shorts" panted in front.

Jean Parker and Mary Carlisle, two charming Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer youngsters, also advocate "shorts" as ideal for roller skating and marble playing.

Another feminine follower of "shorts" is Karen Morley, who has discovered that more miles can be covered a-foot when garbed in hiking clothes copied from the Boy Scout's uniform than when wearing trousers.

BROKEN CUT-GLASS

SOMETIMES cut-glass articles, such as perfume bottles or powder bowls, get knocked off the dressing-table and smashed. In the case of cut-glass articles the break is usually into two or three pieces, leaving clean edges. The articles may be mended securely and almost invisibly at home in the following manner. Mix a little spirits of wine with a small quantity of isinglass and a few drops of water, and melt gently over a small gas-burner, mixing thoroughly. When the isinglass has melted, the liquid may be applied to the broken edges of the glass, which should then be firmly pressed together. Leave to harden, and the glass will be firmly repaired and the break almost invisible.

RUBBER NAIL-BRUSHES

THE new rubber nailbrush is a welcome addition to modern bath-room equipment. These brushes are made in various attractive colours.

They are pleasant to use and do not roughen tender skin.

They are easy to keep clean, and never smell fusty even when kept in a sponge-bag. They are handy to pack, for they may be dried immediately after use.

Being soft and light they cannot do any damage if they are accidentally dropped into a wash-basin. When not in use they may serve as soap-mats.

ELECTRIC TRIUMPH OVER CRAIGENGOWER IN JUNIOR BOWLS

YOUNG COMPANIONS TRIUMPH.

University Beaten By Three Clear Goals.

CHINESE CIVIL SERVANTS GO NAP AGAINST C.B.C. IN POLO LEAGUE.

Two excellent games in the Hong Kong Water-polo League were yesterday evening witnessed at the Chinese Bathing Club when the Young Companions Aquatic Association defeated the Hong Kong University by 3 goals to nil and the Chinese Civil Servants' Swimming Club beat the Chinese Bathing Club by 5 goals to nil.

Both games were played before a fairly large crowd and a fairly good standard of water polo was displayed, although several players were inclined to wander into the two yard area with disastrous results.

Mr. Ip Kuan-mu, who refereed both games, is to be congratulated on the manner in which he performed his duties. His task was no easy one in view of the fast play and the many scrimmages when all that could be seen were arms and legs.

Varsity's Missed Chances.

In the first game the University should have scored on at least two occasions in the first half, but bad marking and weak passing lost them both these chances. Da Silva, was very weak in the centre.

H. L. Ozorio unfortunately damaged his hand, but he kept excellent watch between the sticks, saving what looked certain goals in the first half. It was through his efforts that the score sheet was blank at half time.

In the second half the Young Companions dominated play and scored three goals through L. E. Long (2) and Fung Kwok-wan.

Mr. Ip Kuan-mu refereed. Young Companions: Chan Wah-ching, Fung Kwok-wan and Li E. Long. Harold Wing-Lee; Wong Li-kwong, Shek Kam-pui and Woo Man-chao. University: H. L. Ozorio, J. Greenberg and E. Zimmerman. S. T. Cheung, G. Gorano, A. C. N. da Silva and M. B. Lob.

Chan Fook Sing Shines For C.C.S.

Excellent combination and many thrilling attacks featured the game between the Chinese Bathing Club and their victors, the Chinese Civil Servants' Swimming Club, who, although they only scored one goal in the first half, pierced the home side's defence on four occasions in the second half, mainly through the excellent performance of Chan Fook Sing, who scored one above the "hat-trick."

MIXED DOUBLES LEAGUE GAME POSTPONED.

C.R.C. v I.R.C. To-morrow.

The Mixed Doubles League match between the Chinese Recreation Club, potential champions, and the Indian Recreation Club, was postponed yesterday owing to the heavy rain experienced at Causeway Bay in the morning.

This match will be played to-morrow afternoon on the C.R.C. courts at Sider Runjahn to a Sunday Herald representative yesterday.

OUTSTANDING BOWLING FEAT BY VERITY

Sussex Checked At Portsmouth.

NABAW OF PATAUDI'S DOUBLE CENTURY

London, Yesterday. Headley Verity, the Yorkshire slow bowler who at present heads the English cricket bowling averages with an average under 10, was in irresistible form against Essex at Leyton in Yorkshire's mid-week fixture.

These were his figures: O M R W
27 10 47 8
14 3 44 9
41 13 91 17

His magnificent bowling and a dogged century by Barber enabled the champions to record their fourteenth outright win in seventeen matches.

Sussex, the South's strongest challengers, were checked at Portsmouth where Hampshire conceded only five points in spite of good bowling by Wensley.

Warwick collapsed sensationally before Clark, the Northants left-handed fast bowler who has now recovered from his strained muscle, and an undefeated century by Timms stopped the home county from retrieving their fortunes.

Notts Follow On.

Wally Hammond and Charlie Parker, stalwarts in the Gloucester side for many years, were seen to advantage against Notts at Bristol. The northern county suffered the indignity of being forced to follow on.

Centuries by Lee and Hendren proved of no avail against Glamorgan and the game at Swansea was abandoned as a draw. This was the only game in a programme ruined by rain that failed to produce a result.

Worcester almost forced a win against Kent. Gibbons (124), the Nawab of Pataudi (224 not out) and Nichol (109 not out) contributed to a total of 477 for 2, while Jackson, a medium fast bowler, forced Kent to follow on with 8 for 57 in a total of 147. Kent were 31 runs in arrears with half their side out when stumps were drawn.

E. F. Longrigg, the former Rugby School player, placed Somerset in a good position against Surrey's declaration at 282 for 8, but the visitors succeeded in taking the major points.

Results as cable by Reuter: County Championship.

Northants took first innings points from Warwickshire at Birmingham.

Warwick 198 (Clark 7 for 76) 27 for no wicket.

Northants 282 for 5 dec. (Timms 102 not out).

Gloucester took first innings from Notts at Bristol.

Gloucester 368 (Hammond 140). Notts 108 (Parker 6 for 52). 141 for 4 wickets.

Sussex took first innings points from Hampshire at Portsmouth.

Sussex 287 and 81 for 0 dec. Hanis 139 (Wensley 5 for 25) and 147 for 3.

Glamorgan drew with Middlesex at Swansea.

Worcester took first innings 0 points from Kent at Worcester.

COLONY AQUATIC CHAMPIONSHIPS

V.R.C. Decide To Stage Events.

LIST OF CHAMPIONS.

The V.R.C., the oldest swimming club in the Colony, has decided to hold the annual Open Colony Swimming Championships.

All the events competed for in former years will be included on the programme, and there is a possibility of the 50 Yards being an additional feature.

This decision was made at the General Committee meeting of the Victoria Recreation Club on Friday.

The exact date or dates for the championships has not yet been fixed, but they will be staged after the Clubs have held their championships and thus enable them to send their best representatives.

As in previous years, these championships will be open to the Colony, and any person may enter, whether he or she represents a Club or not.

The following are the Colony holders and their times:—

100 Yards S. V. Gittins (V.R.C.)	60.3.5 sec.
220 Yards L. Roza Pereira (V.R.C.)	2m. 37.3.5 sec.
440 Yards L. Roza Pereira (V.R.C.)	5m. 59.1.5 sec.
880 Yards L. Roza Pereira (V.R.C.)	12m. 19.3.5 sec.
100 Yards Backstroke L. Roza Pereira (V.R.C.)	74.1.5 sec.
100 Yards Breaststroke Kwok Chung-hang (S.C.A.A.)	77 sec.

CHAMPIONS BEAT TAIKOO BY 46

"DOUBLE" FOR BOWLING GREEN AGAINST RECREIO

POLICE AND CIVIL SERVANTS RECORD TWO VICTORIES

THE Hong Kong Electric caused the biggest Lawn Bowls sensation of the season yesterday when they beat Craigengower, junior champions, by 10 shots at Ming Yuen.

The champions lost on two of the three rinks, W. Gill's four going down to W. H. B. Musketts rink (J. Sloan, C. E. Gahagan, and S. Deacon) by 23 shots — the heaviest defeat of the day.

The Bowling Green recorded a handsome "double" at the expense of the Recreio and are now leading both divisions. Craigengower came within four shots of the Recreio's record victory of 50 shots when they beat Taikoo at the Valley by 46 shots. The Police and Civil Service also recorded wins in the premier league.

The Police and Civil Service juniors gave their Clubs double victories when they beat the Indians and the Yacht Club, while the Bowling Green's second team won on all three rinks against the Recreio.

Only one six was recorded in the eight matches, W. Mair's four (J. Fender, T. Tallon, and J. Shepherd) securing a 6 and a 5 to beat R. Lapsley's rink by 16 shots.

S. CHINA WIN BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

American Navy Beaten By 6 To 2.

200 SPECTATORS WITNESS HOLDERS' TRIUMPH.

South China, the 1932 champions, clinched the Hong Kong Baseball League yesterday at Caroline Hill when they beat the American Navy by 6 to 2 before 200 spectators.

Shullenbarger walked T. Kim in the first inning, and the crowd cheered T. Kim to the echo when he stole to second base and was neatly put out.

In the last of the second inning Matty Chang went up to bat when his team had two men on bases and two outs, but those men were left on bases when Matty was struck out.

Matty and Fong were on bases in the last of the third when Chan hit a ball hard out into centre-field, bringing both the base-runners home. A few seconds later Pau brought Young in and gave South China the big lead of 3-0 against the Navy.

An exciting incident occurred in the last of the third when Storie gave chase down the base-line between second and third and tagged out T. Chan.

The sailors rallied in the fourth inning when Donovan hit a beautiful three-bagger which brought in Storie. Shullenbarger then brought Donovan home, making the score 3 to 2 in the first of the fourth.

South China brought in three more runs in the last of the fourth, bringing the score up to 6-2 which won the game for them.

T. Chan knocked a two-bagger out to left field in the fifth inning but was unable to score on it.

Silver Rehabilitation Prospects.

THE World Economic Conference, on which such high hopes were pinned, has failed, for the present at least, and the world will now wait till the autumn for the results of President Roosevelt's inflation programme. The failure of the Conference was caused primarily by the American decision to revert to a national policy instead of proceeding with the tentative efforts that were made prior to June 12 towards international co-operation. If that decision had been announced before the Conference opened, a great deal of time and money could have been saved, and the shattering blow to public confidence could have been avoided by the simple act of postponing the opening of the Conference. As it is, nothing has been gained and much has been lost. Instead of promoting harmony and international co-operation, the Conference has produced dissension. The rift between the gold bloc nations and the non-gold countries is a serious one, and the threat of a wide-scale currency "war" does not improve world trade prospects. The wild fluctuations of the United States dollar and the "raids" that have been made on the gold stocks of the few countries still remaining on the gold standard indicate that a currency tussle has actually started. A measure of sympathy must be felt for the gold countries and their contention that the prolongation of the Conference was futile after President Roosevelt had rejected the monetary stabilisation scheme inevitably proved correct. Long before the decision to adjourn was made by the Bureau on Friday, it had been felt that the desultory and inconclusive talks should be checked, and the respite, which will be of at least three months' duration, will be welcome to all the delegates participating in the London deliberations. Even the somewhat meagre results that have been achieved on economic problems, notably on silver, wheat and sugar, are conditional and contingent upon currency stabilisation.

The outstanding feature of the past week's activities in London is the progress effected on measures designed to restore the price of silver. A tentative agreement was apparently reached, but at the last minute a deadlock has arisen owing to objections raised by Holland. The actual Dutch complaint is comparatively trivial, but is significant in that it reveals the attitude of the gold bloc, of which Holland is a member. Silver rehabilitation is one of the main planks of the American programme, and the gold countries evidently intend to retaliate against the United States by blocking the silver proposals. As bimetalism seems to have been dropped from the agenda, silver concerns the gold countries very little, even if the suggestion that the white metal be used as an additional, and optional, currency backing is adopted. But until monetary stabilisation is realised, their attitude to any proposals, monetary or economic, is likely to be unfavourable. Senator Pittman, chairman of the silver sub-committee, has achieved excellent results, and according to his own optimistic announcements, the eight countries chiefly concerned, Canada, America, Mexico, Bolivia and Peru as producers, and India, China and Spain as consumers, had reached a tentative agreement to restrict sales and absorb production. If the negotiations fall, America will probably act alone. American speculators believe that the administration is committed to 50-cent silver, and the fact that the war debt token payments were accepted by Washington at that value lends support to this view. In common with other commodities, silver prices have appreciated, the present Wall Street quotation, hovering around 40 cents, representing a rise of over 10 cents since the United States abandoned the gold standard. As the metal has also advanced in London, although not to the same degree, the Hong Kong dollar, together with all other currencies based on silver, has increased in value. Normally, the rapid depreciation of the United States dollar would have caused a corresponding decrease in the local dollar but, although the London on New York cross-rate fell from around 3.40 to its present level of between 4.70 and 4.80 (near the former par rate of 4.80) the dollar pulled sterling down with it in relation to gold currencies. Consequently the effects, as far as Hong Kong is concerned, were largely nullified. As America seems determined to raise price levels and to carry out her own currency schemes irrespective of any action other nations may take, it is a fairly safe prophecy that the value of silver will be further enhanced. Quicker results, which would possess a universal effect, would be achieved if Senator Pittman concludes an international agreement.

HORSE-RIDING IN BRITAIN.

Sport Achieves New Popularity.

ROTTEN ROW INVADDED.

London. It is really astonishing the new popularity which riding is achieving. It was not long ago that Rotten Row was regarded as the exclusive preserve of the wealthy hunting and "country" people. But now anyone can—and does—ride there. Children, business men, professional sportsmen and all sorts of people ride around Hyde Park. Even chorus girls off duty are seen riding there! But it is in the open spaces of outer London that the increase in the popularity of riding is most apparent. Wherever there is a stretch of downland in any of the home counties there is almost certain to be a riding school. Riders are to be seen everywhere nowadays in Blackheath, Epping Forest, Richmond Park and on the rolling grass plains around Reigate. The Sussex Downs are popular too. At the popular seaside resort of Bognor (where the King went to recuperate from his serious illness) horses and ponies have practically driven out the homely donkey for riding along the sands. Pony clubs, too, have grown in numbers all over the country.—Reuter.

JAPAN BUYS EMPIRE WILD ANIMALS.

Nairobi Kiddies Mourn Popular Pets.

BIG CONSIGNMENT PURCHASED

Nairobi, Kenya. The Japanese Government is importing wild animals from Kenya.

A representative who visited the Colony specially for the purpose, superintended the shipment from Mombasa of two giraffes, three cheetahs, six hyenas and 100 chameleons. The number was increased unexpectedly on the way to the station when one chameleon gave birth to a family of 10. The departure of the two giraffes has created desolation in the hearts of scores of children in a Nairobi suburb with whom the two animals, known as Sally and Bronco, had been on the friendliest terms.

For the past six months the giraffes had wandered freely among the gardens in the district and although they were welcomed by the children, their healthy appetites were not appreciated by some of Nairobi's keen gardeners.—Reuter.

BEAUTIFUL VILLAGE SWALLOWED UP.

Terrible Havoc Follows Earth Tremors.

INHABITANTS ESCAPE.

Belgrade. The whole of the beautiful village of Berkovatz, near Gornjotoppana, has been swallowed up—or wrecked—by violent earth movement.

When most of the people were working in the fields, terrific rumblings were heard below the village. Houses rocked and fell in ruins. Roads disappeared in yawning clefts. Hills subsided; flat ground became hilly. Trees were shattered.

The few people in the houses had time to escape by fleeing into the forests—but the possessions of 50 families have been destroyed. Now the whole area around the village has been officially declared "unsafe," and the houses are to be rebuilt a mile away.

Underground water beneath the hillside on which the village was built is said to have been the cause of the disaster.—Reuter.

Academic Assistance Council

The formation of an organisation in this country to assist the many eminent scholars and men of science who have lately been obliged to relinquish their posts in the universities of Germany has attracted a most distinguished body of men to its council.

They include such men as Sir William Bragg, Viscount Cecil, the Earl of Crawford and Balcarras, Mr. H. A. L. Fisher, Professor F. G. Kenyon, Mr. J. M. Keynes, Lord Lytton, Lord Rayleigh, Sir Josiah Stamp and Professor Gilbert Murray.

The Royal Society are providing office accommodation and Sir William Beveridge and Professor C. S. Gibson have undertaken to act as honorary secretaries. With such backing the council should have little difficulty in raising a fund to carry on the work to which it has set its hand.

Stokowski

Off the platform M. Leopold Stokowski, the conductor of the Philadelphia Orchestra, and, easily the highest salaried musician in the world, is an elusive personage.

He made a flying visit to his alma mater, the Royal College of Music recently when he conducted an orchestra of his old fellow-students in one of the jubilee concerts.

"Stokowski," as he used to be nicknamed at the college, was in great form, and clearly enjoyed himself enormously. Then he disappeared.

When his friends and admirers tried to find him, they discovered he had left by the night train for Paris.

Sir Charles's Farewell.

There was a note of genuine regret in the voice of Gen. Sir Charles H. Harington, the president of the Aldershot Tattoo, when he made his usual speech at the inaugural luncheon, which takes place each year.

He was making the speech for the last time—he is shortly to take up the office of Governor of Gibraltar.

It was easy to see that the Tattoo, for all the enormous amount of work it entails, will be missed perhaps more than any other of his many military interests.

Trusting the Press.

Sir Charles revealed an interesting piece of war history when he said that his relations with the Press began exactly sixteen years ago, on the eve of the Battle of Messines.

"A meeting of the war correspondents was called," he said, "and I was utterly frank with them. I told them every secret that was in our heads—all that Lord Plumer had in mind to do.

"They never left me down."

Mrs. Jack Crawford.

Mrs. Jack Crawford, whose husband has brought renown to Australia in the French lawn tennis championships, was herself ranked No. 1 in the Commonwealth two years ago, and is a notable tactician.

With her husband she holds the mixed doubles championship of Australia, and is now paying her second visit to England, which she unforgotten adores.

Despite the great heat in the open stand at Auteuil she watched every stroke of Crawford's matches, and assisted him in planning the campaign which led to Cochet's overthrow.

Lord Halifax's Ale.

Now that Lord Halifax has entered his 55th year one is disposed to pay more respectful heed than ever to his praise of the ale which he brews at Hickleton.

It is not merely in a spirit of jesting that he attributed his longevity to the excellence of his home-brewed beverage.

This month Lord Halifax will be in London to take part in the centenary celebrations in connection with the Oxford Movement. He is a wonderful link with the past, for he has known everyone, beginning with Cardinal Newman, who has been connected with the Movement.

For Baronets.

The hand-book, which is produced yearly, of the Standing Council of the Baronetage, is a handsome little volume.

The Standing Council was established in 1898 "for the purpose of watching over the interests of the Members of the Sixth Hereditary Degree."

One of its most useful functions is the exposure of bogus baronets, of which between 60 and 70 have been forced to discard their spurious titles.

The roll of the baronetage reveals the fact that there are 1,575 members of the Order. The list is headed by Sir Hickman Beckett Bacon—the first in alphabetical order of the descendants of the original baronets created by James I. on May 22, 1611.

L. G. at the Opera.

Mr. Lloyd George was at the opera recently, telling friends that it was his first visit for many years.

He spent the intervals of "Otello" in talking in the "conservatory" to Sir Eric Geddes, who is a tenor and is sufficiently robust to appear as Otello himself.

On the grand staircase at Covent Garden is a merciless caricature of Mr. Lloyd George by Signor Autori, the baritone-caricaturist. He stood before it in silence for some time. Then he turned to Autori and said: "I heard you over the wireless last night in 'Don Carlos,' so I'll forgive you."

Sir Harry Preston.

To be called "Sir Harry" will be no strange thing to this veteran sportsman; his friends have nicknamed him thus for years. He has retitled himself by calling them all "My Lord."

There is not much about Harry that is not common knowledge, although many people will learn with surprise that he began his career as a school teacher at Lewisham, and with even greater surprise that he stuck it for three years. His consolation was amateur boxing in the evenings, and one of these bouts resulted in a cauliflower ear of such terrifying appearance that Harry took it to Charing Cross Hospital.

The house surgeon, before carrying out repairs, made a plaster cast of the cauliflower ear as a curiosity, and informed Harry when they met 40 years later that he still used it as a paper-weight.

The Brighton Creed.

Harry Preston's life as an hotel keeper began humbly in an East End public-house. An intermediate stage was the running of an hotel at Bournemouth; then he transferred to Brighton. His manageress at that time, a Miss Collins, is now Lady Preston.

Sir Harry's belief in the beauty, gaiety and tonic virtues of Brighton amounts to a passionate creed. Only very brave men will look him straight in the eye and say, "I am going to Monte Carlo for my holiday this year."

A Notable Absentee.

The brilliant group of foreign Military Attaches at the Trooping of the Colour always attracts the crowd's attention, with its unfamiliar uniforms and spikéd helmets. At the recent Trooping of the Colour even more glances than usual were turned in its direction, for, according to the programme, Col. Baron Geyr von Schweppenburg was to have been among them.

It would have been the first occasion since the war that a German Military Attache had been present. When it was found that the Baron was not there considerable conjecture was aroused. The explanation is simple. The Baron is still unwell, and has not yet even left Germany. It was stated at the German Embassy, however, that he is making good progress, and is expected to arrive in this country soon.

BRITISH RAILWAY PROGRESS.

G.W.R.'s £6,000,000 Improvements.

TRAIN "CRUISE" ORGANISED

London.

British railways are certainly coming on.
That new electric train which runs down to Brighton from London does a large part of the trip at well over 60 miles an hour. It goes so fast that some passengers have complained because they have arrived at their station as much as five minutes before they were due. Yet people used to make jokes about the Southern railway, the same kind of jokes that they made about the old Somerset and Dorset company (long since absorbed) whose initials "S & D" they used to stand for "Slow and Dirty".

Then there is the Great Western. They are spending about £6,000,000 to make themselves more efficient. They are going to provide 5,000 new goods wagons and are rebuilding or enlarging several of their stations.

And now the London and North Eastern Company are showing a new piece of enterprise. They are offering holidaymakers this year the chance of going on "cruises"—just like the shipping people.

The company announces that the train will leave London and will travel through 2,000 miles of the finest scenery in England and Scotland in seven days.

Sixty passengers will be carried in the train and what a train! Its attractions include:—

Smoking room, writing room, ladies' room, shower baths, and hairdressing saloon.

And its staff will comprise restaurant-car and sleeping-car attendants, including chambermaids to look after the ladies. Altogether the train will weigh more than 500 tons.

As the tour includes the Highlands, the Clyde and the Lake District, it seems pretty cheap at the £20 which is the passenger fare.—

WEATHER FORECAST

Fair to showery weather with light South winds was forecasted in the report issued from the Royal Observatory yesterday evening.

ENGLAND-MELBOURNE AIR RACE

Centenary Event In October, 1934.

TENTATIVE CONDITIONS ANNOUNCED.

Melbourne, Victoria.

Tentative conditions for the centenary air races from England to Melbourne were announced by the secretary to the Centenary Celebrations Committee (Mr. E. V. Neill). They are subject to alteration and addition in accordance with information or suggestions solicited from the Air Ministry in England, but it is unlikely that they will be altered in any material detail.

Special conditions safeguard the competitors against possible injury or loss of life, and others ensure that the race will be flown fairly.

The conditions stipulate that the races, for which prize of £10,000 with a gold cup valued at £500, and other prizes of a total value of £5,000 have been given by Sir Macpherson Robertson, must be completed within 16 calendar days.

There will be an open race and a handicap race, the handicap being based on a formula which attaches considerable importance to the commercial utility of the machine.

Any individuals, organisations, or nations may compete, and the power and type of the machines entered is not limited. The races will begin on October 20, 1934 or as near that date as possible, and the machines will be started simultaneously from several aerodromes in England equidistant from Bagdad. Any number of machines may be entered by the one nominator, and the same machine may be entered for both races, but if a machine wins or is placed in both races, the nominator will receive one prize only, the lesser prize, or whichever he chooses, going to the next placed competitor.

Entries will close at mid-day on June 1, 1934. A nomination fee of £50 will be charged each entrant in the open race, and a nomination fee of £10 for the handicap race. One fee of £50 will cover nominations for the one machine in both races. The fee will be returned if the machine begins its flight in accordance with the conditions of the race.

The number of the crew and passengers of any machine is not limited, but no few personnel may be embarked once the race has started. Each machine must carry sufficient food and water for three days. It must carry floating gear for each of the persons on board, and must carry at least six smoke signals. Refuelling in the air and flying at night will be permitted.—

NEW SNAKE SERUM DEVELOPED.

Twice As Potent As Previous Curatives.

SOUTH AFRICAN RESEARCH.

Johannesburg.

A greatly improved anti-snake bite serum has been developed by the Serum Department of the South African Institute for Medical Research and is now being prepared for use where required. The new serum is obtained from horses immunised by an original method worked out at the Institute with the venom of different varieties of African snake.

By submitting a serum of already high potency to methods of concentration and refinement, a product of exceptional quality is obtained, one ampoule of this concentrated serum being equivalent to at least two ampoules of the product hitherto available. This might be gauged from the fact that the anti-toxic and curative properties are assessed against both cobra and viper venoms. The former group includes venoms from such snakes as the Cape cobra the ringhals and the mamba, while the latter includes poison from various species of adders, including the puff and night adder.—

16,000 MILES IN AFRICA.

Glover Expedition Ends After 2½ Years.

"SORRY IT IS OVER"

London.

"Pleased to be home? Well, you know, we're sick that it's all over."

A young woman stood on the quayside at Avonmouth in the cold, grey mist of the early morning. She was Mrs. Glover, a member of the Glover expedition, which has just returned from Africa.

And that is how she feels about coming home.

The expedition has been away for two years and three months, taking photographs of wild beasts and collecting specimens of reptiles and skeletons of antelopes for the British Museum.

Much of their time has been spent in the most uninhabitable swamps of Africa.

During their 16,000 miles trek from Senegal to Somaliland, they endured incredible hardships and privations. Once their water supply was stolen, while on another occasion, in the desert of Timbuctu, coolies drank their entire supply in one night.

One of the worst incidents of all was the crossing of Lake Chad—12 days in an open boat paddled by natives and a temperature of 125 degrees in the shade. Only there was no shade and they were "eaten alive" by mosquitoes.

Their equipment consisted of three motor lorries specially constructed with detachable sides and back that could be lashed together to form a raft for crossing rivers.

Among some 500 specimens of wild beasts, rare fish, skeletons of antelope and antelope horns, which they brought home with them, were two leopards. They captured them as cubs during the early part of the expedition. But they are "grown up" now and are going to the Bristol Zoo.—

CHILDREN KEY TO LEPROSY PROBLEMS

Grim Scourge May Last 50 Years.

WORK OF TOC H.

London.

The grim scourge of leprosy, which has been practically stamped out in the countries of the temperate zone, still calls for years of battling before it is crushed in several parts of the Empire, and discussion about how this can best be done was heard at a meeting in London of the British Empire Leprosy Relief Association.

Sir Leonard Rogers contended that: "If infection of all children could be prevented, leprosy would die out."

He pointed out that the value, in not too advanced cases, of injections of soluble forms of the active principles of chaulmoogra and hydriocarbous oils had now passed the realms of controversy.

"Indeed," he said, "we now possess the means to reduce leprosy greatly within a single decade."

Some eighty per cent of infections were contracted by living in the same house as an active leper, and the incubation period in 80 per cent of the cases was less than 5 years.

"If the house contacts of all discovered cases are examined repeatedly for ten years to detect and clear up in the early and little infective stages—there would remain too few contagious cases to maintain the disease."

Sudanese Healed.

Sir Leonard said they had proved the efficiency of this plan in Nauri Island in the Pacific, and in the Southern Sudan. In the Sudan 6,500 cases were found in an infected area. The 4,800 infective cases were put into a colony and treated, and within the last year 2,230 had been discharged free from all signs of the disease.

Remarkable progress had been made in India. In the Central Provinces and Madras alone, 50,000 were being treated, and about 1,000 doctors had been taught modern methods of treatment.

In tropical Africa it had been found that children were most susceptible to the disease, half the total infections taking place below the age of twenty. "Children," Sir Leonard declared, "are the key to the leprosy problem."

The Rev. P. B. ("Tubby") Clayton, the founder of ToC H., who has just returned from Africa and the East, spoke of the pitiful conditions he had seen in some of the leper colonies.

Kano's Plight.

He referred in particular to the situation at Kano, Northern Nigeria, a district not yet open to Christian Mission influence, and said that thanks to the ready help of the ToC H. Group in the House of Commons he hoped that recommendations would go forward to remedy the position there.

He had found that the members of ToC H. were eager to study the problem and a number, including medical students, nurses and young men, had volunteered to serve as European dispensers or on the educational staffs of Christian leper colonies.

He was convinced that the same spirit which Britain had shown towards the extermination of slavery could be roused to stamp out leprosy within the next fifty years.—

DANGEROUS TRADES IN MADRAS.

Licenses Urged For Shaving Saloons.

Bombay.

A curious proposal to include trading in chillies (cayenne pepper) and the keeping of shaving saloons among the "offensive and dangerous trades" for which licenses have to be taken out came up for consideration at the Municipal council meeting of Bellary in the Madras Presidency.

The suggestion was made by a member to increase the revenue. But, after a good deal of discussion, the council expressed the opinion that neither of the trades were "dangerous" or "offensive" and that no license fee should be levied on them.—

LIONS TERRORISE VILLAGES.

Natives Unable To Cope With Situation.

AFRICAN DISTRICT PANIC-STRICKEN.

Dar Es Salaam.

Villages over a wide area, lying only 30 miles from Dar es Salaam, are terrified by a number of man-eating lions.

So far, 12 natives have been taken by the lions.

A traveller from Dar es Salaam early one morning came across parties of Africans answering a drum-beat call to arms. On the previous evening, a man had been taken by one of the lions.

The news was sent throughout the district by drum-beat and instructions were issued for a muster at dawn.

Later, a messenger was sent to Dar es Salaam with the news that the natives themselves could not cope with the situation and that assistance was necessary.

So panic-stricken were the natives that none would leave his hut after sun-down nor venture out until the sun was well up. On their visits to their cultivations, they went well-armed and in groups of three and four.

One party of children saw their mother snatched by a lion and severely mauled.—

Unwanted Men Of The World

Brotherly Love Their Only Salvation

GLORY OF THE IDEAL

(By A Local Padre.)

(This is another of the series of articles written exclusively for the "Sunday Herald" by a local Army chaplain.)

NOT wanted!

What a world of tragedy lies in those two words—the blight of hope, the wreck of ambition, the end, it may be, of a long struggle to make good. Yet to many men who have known the bitterness of those two words there has been the consolation behind it of knowing that though they may not be wanted in one place, they might well be wanted in another.

Can you imagine the mental condition of the man who is rejected by all shades of society? You may ask is there such a man? There certainly is. Years ago Robert Blunden described him as the "bottom dog." He is the man who presents the greatest problem that has to be met by all social reformers and by the Christian Church.

There is an excellent example of the man no one wants in the third chapter of the Acts. We are told there that Peter and John went up to the Temple at the hour of prayer and there they found a man lying at the Gate called Beautiful. The details are given us pretty vividly. We discover, first of all, that he lived outside the Church. He was on the wrong side of the gate. He may have had the mistaken idea that the Church did not want him. Sometimes if he happens to wander into a so-called fashionable Church he is sure of it.

He was lame from his birth. He never had a chance. Usually the man whom nobody wants is the man who never had a chance. He was probably too dirty. He was uncultured. He had no education. Labour did not want him, for he was a drag on the market. No employer would take a chance with him.

He has been there all down the years. You will find him to-day in all our great cities, scrounging along the lines of docks, in the London parks by day, and on the Embankment at nights, tramping the country from one workhouse to another; beachcombing out here in the East.

It has been suggested that the only cure is the lethal chamber, for there is always the danger of propagating his species. But "a man's man for all that," and no matter how low he may have sunk he will nearly always be found to respond to something higher than himself.

Touched by a loving hand, awakened by kindness. Chords that are broken may vibrate once more.

However low he may be in the social scale he is still worth saving. But how?

Labour can't do it. Communism and Bolshevism are equally powerless. His share of the World's wealth divided out equally would not buy him much more than one meal. Socialism might place him in a new environment, but if that is all, he would be back from whence he came inside three months. The first sin that happened was committed in the finest environment that God could provide. To think you can change a man's character by putting him into a boiled shirt is neither science nor is it sense.

You may have other ideas.—Theosophy and Christian Science.—They are all very delightful when you have had an eight-course dinner, and can sit back in a comfortable arm chair with a fat cigar, but they are not much good to the down and out who has his belt in the last hole to help him to forget an empty stomach. The acid test of any religion is what has it done for people of this type. Tell him that the pangs of hunger are imagination, and you will run an imminent risk of getting something where the chicken got the chopper.

Christ The Brother.

But to go back to the story. Peter said "Look on us" and the man looked up, "expected to receive an alms." Is it not typical of these people? They seem to imagine that Christians are there for nothing else than to provide them with money. If some men only put the imagination and skill which they use to invent plausible tales for the unwary, to some other, better, and constructive policy, they would soon be in another street.

The man whom nobody wanted received that day two things,—the two things only which can adequately deal with the extreme case of the unwanted:—a Christ and an outstretched hand.

Christ the brother man. Who was himself despised and rejected, the friend of the outcast, whose proud heart it was that he was not ashamed to consort with them. Who had trodden the grim pathway of suffering himself. Who knew the meaning of it, because He had carried on His own shoulders the weight of a cross all His days.

He, and He alone, can call out of a man that emotion which will turn him from the nobody wants into the man everyone loves.

You may doubt this and that, you may question the fact of miracles, but there is one thing you can't doubt, and that is the miracle of a changed life. And if you have seen, as I have seen, men who were the biggest scoundrels unchanged turned into decent, sober, straight, upright men, you will never again doubt the power of the ideal that rests in Jesus Christ.

That was not all. Peter might have left him there, but he did not. He took him by the hand.

The Difficult Part. That is the difficult part. It is so easy to despise and reject. So easy to push a man a little further down the slope. It is not always easy to take him by the hand, and show the sympathy that means "I suffer with,"—to play the pal to the man whom nobody wants.

Sometimes it soils your hands, it means you have to stoop a bit to lift him up. But surely this is the supreme duty of the followers of the great Master Who came to seek and save that which was lost.

We can preach sermons, and tell men of the glory of the ideal, but the sermon is not worth much if afterwards we are not willing to go down and take that man by the hand, and help him up.

For the man, no matter who he is, whom you see walking the streets in rags and filth, with blasphemy in his mouth and disease in his body, is a brother man. He has a soul, and though nobody else wants him, you can go to him, and say "Take courage again, whatever you may think of your fellow-men, God wants you, in fact He needs you, you are just as important to Him as anyone else."

And remember this,—the work of restoring life's broken pieces is as much your job as mine.

CHARITY CONCERTS AT KO SHING.

St. John Ambulance Brigade Troupe.

Arrangements are now under way for a series of Chinese theatrical performances to be staged at the Ko Shing Theatre in aid of the St. John Ambulance Brigade's medical work in the New Territories.

The proceeds realised will be wholly devoted to the Brigade for this purpose. The amateur troupe which played so successfully last year to raise funds for the same object, will again play. Programmes will be given on three nights commencing from July 21.

In its last performances, the troupe won great admiration and since then has been greatly augmented, new artists having joined and many fine dresses and new paintings for use on the stage, acquired.

In view of these new acquisitions the troupe should now rank among the best amateurs ever seen in Hong Kong. The acts presented will be entirely different from those of last year and promise to surpass all previous performances.

EUROPE'S "POCKET NAPOLEON."

METEORIC RISE OF DR. DOLFUSS

INTIMATE HISTORY OF AUSTRIA'S LEADER

(By S. Pantan.)

The future of Central Europe today depends on a tiny figure, Austria's "Little Napoleon"—four foot eleven Chancellor Dollfuss. He recently visited London for the World Economic Conference.

Single-handed, this diminutive statesman is fighting Nazi influence in Austria, and opposing the desire of Hitler to make Austria a part of Germany.

Within the last weeks Chancellor Dollfuss has turned German Ministers out of his country, raided Nazi headquarters in Austrian towns and villages, and sent a frontier guard to the German border with machine guns to prevent a Nazi coup.

What manner of man is this Pocket Napoleon?

Pugnacious but bashful-looking, little Engelbert Dollfuss is the youngest, as well as the tiniest, Prime Minister in Europe to-day. He is 40 years old and 59 inches high.

He is as game as a bantam cock. He never refuses a challenge. And he never releases his grip.

Three years ago he was unknown. To-day he is as powerful in his country as his old predecessor, Metternich.

His secret of success, strangely enough, lies in his 59 inches of height.

Realising years ago that he could only counteract the disadvantages of his stature by being more energetic, more hard-working, and more determined than the men twice his size, he set out to steel himself, and succeeded.

Energy.

To-day, no Austrian can surpass his Chancellor in energy, industriousness, and determination.

Dollfuss was born on October 4, 1892 in the little village of Teking, tucked away in a fold of the Lower Austrian hills 50 miles from Vienna. He comes from an old Catholic peasant family. His mother, dressed in peasant clothes with a shawl over her head, can still be seen looking after the little peasant holding where her famous son was born.

Teased by the other village boys on account of his size, little Engelbert started his fight against his lack of height.

He worked. He fought. He gritted his teeth, and became the cleverest scholar of the local school. The same process was repeated when he went to the district school.

War Honour.

He studied law at the Vienna University and then went to the Berlin University to study national economics. The great war came, and he volunteered for service as a pilot in a Tyrolean regiment. He received several orders for bravery on the field. By the end of the war he had been promoted to lieutenant.

In 1919 he became secretary of the Lower Austrian Peasant League, and was sent to Berlin to study similar movements in Germany. While there he met the woman who was to become his wife, married her, and brought her back to Austria with him.

On his return he became the director of the Lower Austrian Chamber of Agriculture, and then, in 1920, he was appointed president of the Austrian Railway.

In 1931, although neither politician nor a member of Parliament, he became Minister of Agriculture until the fall of the Cabinet on May 6, 1932.

Then came his big chance. No one was willing to become Chancellor and to undertake the colossal task of trying to put Austria on her financial legs again after the crash of 1931. This man was asked, and that man was asked, and all refused.

Majority Of One.

For two weeks the Cabinet crisis, the longest in the history of Austria, continued. Then some one said, "What about Dollfuss?" Dollfuss was called to President Miklas, and offered the Chancellorship.

True to his principle of always tackling a high job, he accepted, and at once started work obtaining a majority of the House. He worked and worked, and finally succeeded in forming a Cabinet backed by the Christian Socialists, the Agrarians, and Fascist Heimwehr. It had a one-man majority.

Since then, Dollfuss has been working to keep this majority and to keep Adolf Hitler and his Nazis out of Austria.

Dollfuss believes that he has been chosen by God for the task of resurrecting Austria, and this belief in his mission has already led to his being nicknamed "The Austrian Joan of Arc."

His Prayer.

There is a story—it may be true, or may be just another of the legends growing up around this little man—that last March, when he faced defeat at the hands of a hostile Parliament, he went to Mass and asked God for a sign approval.

Next day the Austrian Parliament committed suicide through the too hasty resignation of its President, and gave the Chancellor a legal excuse for ruling it.

But the strain of being semi-dictator of Austria is telling on him. I saw him the other day at a reception given by him in the Schoenbrunn Palace. He had grey eyes, brown, wavy hair, a charming smile, and an expression amazingly mild for a man who roars like a lion and acts with the swiftness of a leopard. But his tired eyes were glazed with illness, and an English woman doctor who was with me shook her head.

"He is very ill," she said to me. "He will not be able to stand this terrible strain much longer."

And she is right. Dollfuss smokes too much, works too much, and has to worry too much.

Cigarettes, which he smokes all day, are his only vice. He drinks little and seems to eat less.

He never has time to eat, and at night, after a hard day's work in the Chancellorcy, he is satisfied with a plate of thick cream soup with potatoes, which is his favourite dish.

He has no hobby. He has no time for that either. He gives all his time to God, his country, and his family.

He himself is a graduate of Yale. He is paying his first visit to England.

Mr. Soong has an attractive personality. He is only forty-one, looks still younger, has an athletic figure, and wears well-cut European clothes. His spectacles are slightly tinted. He is as erudite as he is able.

In the new China the importance of Mr. Soong's family has assumed almost dynastic proportions. One of his sisters is the widow of Sun Yat Sen. Another is the wife and forceful partner of General Chiang Kai-Shek. The Soongs are all Christians and modernists. It was Mrs. Chiang-Kai-Shek who converted her husband to Christianity three years ago.

Mr. Soong began his career as Sun Yat Sen's private secretary, and was the chief witness of his last testament—a document which is read aloud on ceremonial occasions and has made "T.V.'s" name known all over China.

He has on more than one occasion narrowly escaped assassination. Two years ago in Shanghai a gang of Chinese attacked him with bombs and pistols as he stepped out of the Nanking express. His secretary was killed and six other persons were wounded. Mr. Soong escaped unscathed.

His adventures have lessened neither his fortitude nor his imperturbability.

M. Maxim Litvinoff

(RUSSIA.)

Aged 57. Born of Jewish parents at Bielostock in 1876. His real name is Meer Moiseoff Wallach. Assistant Commissar for Foreign Affairs, 1918-1930. To-day, full Commissar for Foreign Affairs.

A revolutionary from his early youth, Litvinoff had his first brush with the Tsarist secret police when he was 25. He was arrested in 1901 for running a secret printing press and imprisoned in Kieff gaol, from which he succeeded in escaping abroad. His most popular pseudonyms as a revolutionary were Maximovitch, Gustav Graf, and Litvinoff.

He came to England some time before the war and was employed as a printer's assistant, working under the name of Harrison. Living in a little semi-detached villa in West Hampstead, he gave Russian lessons to Englishmen, including Mr. Rex Leeper, of the Foreign Office.

When the war broke out he was employed as a clerk at India House, the buying centre for the Russian army. He left this employment in 1917 to become first Bolshevik Minister to England. He took an office in Victoria-street and was ejected by the landlord. Although not recognised officially by the British Government, he conducted unofficial negotiations with a Foreign Office representative in St. James's Park.

M. Litvinoff was arrested by the British Government in September, 1918, as a reprisal for the arrest of British officials in Russia, and imprisoned in Brixton gaol. He was sent back to Russia in October, 1918.

M. Litvinoff is a heavily-built man with pince-nez, a high intellectual forehead, and a firm mouth. He speaks good English with a strong Jewish accent. His wife is an Englishwoman, formerly Miss Ivy Low and a niece of the late Sir Sidney Low.

M. Litvinoff is not without benevolence. But he remains bitter about Tsarism, to which, as far as is known, he has paid only one compliment. On being released from Brixton he remarked to the Foreign Office official who was arranging his departure: "The Kieff gaol was more comfortable—and easier to escape from!"

Viscount Kikujiro Ishii

(JAPAN.)

Viscount Ishii is probably the most distinguished, as well as the most experienced, diplomat who has ever represented Japan abroad.

For several years, during the war, the Peace Conferences, and the many sessions of the League of Nations Council, he figured at every international assembly of statesmen.

He has been successively Ambassador in Washington and Paris, Japanese Minister of Foreign Affairs, delegate to the Naval Disarmament Conference, and chief Japanese delegate to the League of Nations.

In Paris and Geneva his cryptic utterances were famous. The late M. Briand once said of him after a meeting of the League Council that although Ishii's eyes always seemed to be half-closed, he saw farther and more clearly than any of his colleagues.

Viscount Ishii is 77. Although he no longer holds any public office in Japan, he still exercises a powerful influence over his country's foreign policy, and early this year, as president of the League of Nations Union in Japan, led the campaign of protest against the League's censure on the Japanese policy in Manchuria.

FAMOUS VICTORIAN PASSES.

Familiar Figure In Coaching Circles.

SIR EDWARD STERN.

London.

Another of that great and gracious generation, the Victorians, has passed with the death of Sir Edward Stern. Sir Edward, who was 78, was one of the last of the Complete Victorians—and one of the last men to drive to the City in a phaeton and pair, unperturbed by the rush and roar and congestion of modern traffic.

He was head of the great financial house of Stern Brothers, and a director of the Midland Bank.

But though this made him a familiar figure in the City, the public knew him better as a coaching whip. Coaching was his hobby, almost his passion, and he owned a team of blue roans which was probably the best known in England.

He was never known to miss a meet of the Coaching Club in Hyde Park, and supporters of the Club would always seek for the distinction of a seat on his coach. His members sent a wreath in the form of a horse shoe to his funeral.

Sir Edward made several gifts of £10,000 to London hospitals.—Reuter.

MOST KISSED MAN DEAD.

Metropolitan Opera Door Attendant.

New York.

The most kissed man in New York is dead.

He was Captain Edgar, who for 28 years was the stage door attendant at the Metropolitan Opera House.

With his snow-white moustache, red boutonniere and broad-brimmed black hat, he was one of the celebrities of the New York scene. It became almost a rite for the great luminaries of the opera and the ballet girls to implant kisses on his moustache as they entered the theatre.

He was a close friend of Caruso, Farrar, Patti and Melba. He loved to tell how Gadski, whose passion in foods was potatoes, would rush out to him a half hour before the end of a performance and say:

"Captain John, telephone to my house and tell them to put the potatoes on." — Reuter.

F.A. RULES REVISED

By passing this rule, the Council would have limited the football players taking part in the League to Hong Kong, Kowloon and the New Territories.

Mr. W. E. Hollands, former
Hon. Secretary of the Football Association, said it would be very hard for the League Council to prove whether a man was
"resident" in the Colony, Kowloon, or the New Territories or not.

"Anyone owing a house, room or even cubicle is entitled to be called a resident," stated Mr.
Hollands.

Mr. Mok Heng concurred with Mr. Hollands' remarks and said that practically every one of the upper class Chinese in the Colony spent most of their time out of the Colony.

The amendment was defeated by a large majority.

Service Men and Civilian Clubs.

Captain Williams also suggested a further amendment—that "Military players may not be played by any Civilian team."

This met with a very mixed reception, the majority not being in favour of it.

Captain Williams pointed out that Civilian members of their respective Clubs might thus be given a better opportunity of playing for their Clubs.

Service men, he contended, were given ample opportunities for playing in their respective Unit teams, and he thought, that if a Service player was good enough to play for a Civilian Club in the First Division, it was his first duty to play for his Unit.

Inspector James pointed out that Service men, joining Civilian Clubs were given certain social amenities which were denied them elsewhere.
The amendment was then put to the vote and defeated.

Referees' Fees.

Rule 15 of the League, in relation to Referee's fees was passed.

This amendment, "That referees
for First Division, Second Division and Third Division, be paid $5 a match, caused much discussion as to possible complaints which would in due course be raised by First Division referees being paid an

Division men were as good, if not better, than several First Division referees.

Army Claim Representation.

The first amendment proposed by Captain Williams

"The Officers of the Hong Kong Football Association shall consist of,
—A President, three Vice-presidents
(one civilian, one Chinese one nominated by the Combined Services), and a Chairman, all to be elected annually at the Annual General Meeting. An Honorary Secretary and an Assistant Honorary Secretary shall be appointed by the Council at its first Meeting,
i.e., the first meeting held after the Annual General Meeting in each year. The Honorary Secretary and Assistant Honorary Secretary appointed for each year shall carry on their duties until their successors are appointed by the Council. All Officers shall be re-official members of any Sub-committee appointed by the Council."

was made, because the Army thought they were entitled to a Vice-President on the Association Council in view of the great number of Service units competing in the three divisions of the Football League.

The motion was thought by all present to be a worthy one and was passed unanimously.

Two Amendments Passed.

Two other amendments

"Clubs who, having been accepted for affiliation to the Association, are unable to send actual members of their Clubs to a Meeting, owing to the absence of such Clubs on Military duty, may appoint representatives from other Clubs to attend such Meetings, with full power to vote on their behalf."

with regard to representatives on a meeting, and

"The Emergency Committee deals with all cases of misconduct on the part of players, and when players have been ordered off the field of play for misconduct, their cases must be dealt with within 10 days of the date of the alleged offence."

misconduct cases dealt with by the Emergency Committee, were passed unanimously.

The second amendment on the list,
"The Council shall consist of the Officers of the Association, with the addition of Members as laid down
hereunder—

Each Club playing in the Senior Division of the League, such members to be nominated by the respective Clubs, and names submitted at each Annual General Meeting.

For the purpose of representation on the Council, the Clubs playing in the Second and Third Divisions (but excluding Second teams of Clubs who enter teams in the Senior Division)
shall be grouped as follows:

Army Group, Civilian Group, and Chinese Group. Each of these Groups shall be entitled to nominate one representative to the Council, the names of such nominees to be submitted at each Annual General Meeting.

In the event of an emergency arising, Clubs (Senior) and Groups (Junior) shall be entitled to nominate a successor to their original nomination.

dealing with the nine members who form the Council was defeated after much discussion.

When put to the vote 13 were in favour of the motion and 8 against, but it was defeated owing to the failure to secure a two-thirds majority.

Not a sports writer accompanied the Pittsburgh Pirates to spring training camp in 1932, but it was different this year.

When NERVES GO WRONG

FEAR of eventual results—misfortunes—disasters—bad news—reverses—casualties—accidents, etc.,
play havoc with the nervous system,
because the emotions seem to overpower the reasoning faculties. When nerves go wrong, physical well-being suffers. It is evidenced with headaches—nerviness—conditions of irritability—sleeplessness, etc. 'ASPRO' is the remedy. You should have it on hand ready for any emergency.
'ASPRO' soothes and steadies the nerves immediately. You don't have long to wait for relief. 'ASPRO' dispels nerve pains. It relieves the most violent headaches in from 5 to 10 minutes. 'ASPRO' changes sleepless nights into restful sleep. It removes the cause of numerous complaints because, after ingestion in the system, 'ASPRO' is a solvent of Uric Acid, a powerful germicide, an internal antiseptic, anti-periodic, antipyretic, and anti-fermentative.

'ASPRO' is pure medicine in tablet form that can be taken anywhere, at any time. It contains no dangerous drugs and there are no injurious after-effects. Always Remember
'Aspro' does not harm the heart.

'ASPRO'

WILL NOT FAIL YOU

First Aid for Mothers.

Most children are subject to Toothache, Earache, Colds and sudden bursts of Temperature. 'ASPRO' can be safely given to children so affected.
It will soothe the pain away and quickly reduce Temperature.

HOW TO GIVE 'ASPRO' TO CHILDREN

Two simple methods of giving 'ASPRO' to the kiddies are: (a) with a little milk; or (b) break the tablet up and administer in a teaspoonful of jam.
The dosage is: Children 3 to 6 years, ½ tablet; 6 to 14 years, 1 tablet; 14 to 18 years 1½ tablets. 'ASPRO' like any other medicine should not be given to babies under 3 years of age without medical advice.

Why 'ASPRO' Has a Universal Sale

The one big reason why 'ASPRO' has a universal sale is because it has a universal use. It helps all from children to parents. It relieves all kinds of aches and pains. It is the quickest finisher of colds and influenza ever discovered. It relieves rheumatism in one night, and saves many a good tooth if it is taken for toothache. You don't even have to lay up to take
'ASPRO'. You can take it in trains, trains, cars, office, at home, anywhere, everywhere, with quick results—it is the same.

5 MINUTES
FOR RELIEF WITH
'ASPRO'

SCIENCE PROTECTS YOU AGAINST DANGEROUS DRUGS

'ASPRO' Does Not
Harm the Heart:

In appearance 'ASPRO' is merely a white tablet, yet how few realize the scientific investigations—the laboratory experimental work involved by analysts and chemists to produce
'ASPRO' free from the development of hydrolysis and Free Salicylic Acid which is so harmful to the human system. Don't meddle with dangerous drugs. You take no chances when you use 'ASPRO'. 'ASPRO' is the safe, sure, certain tablet. It does not harm the heart or cause stomach troubles. Furthermore, it does not produce any injurious after-effects.

Try 'ASPRO' for

Headache	Temperature
Rheumatism	Malaria
Neuritis	Dengue
Sleeplessness	Sciatica
Toothache	Cout
Earache	Lumbago
Neuralgia	Sore Throat
Colds	Asthma
Influenza	Hay Fever
Feverishness	Irritability
Periodical Pains Peculiar to Women.
Alcoholic After-Effects.

The PURITY of 'ASPRO'

The purity of 'ASPRO' conforms to the standard laid down by the British Pharmacopoeia—the guiding authority of the Medical Profession. With
'ASPRO' there is no Free Salicylic Acid, therefore, it does not harm the heart, or have any injurious after-effects, such as palpitation, nausea, digestive or other troubles. Safeguard your health and heart by always insisting on 'ASPRO'.

BRIDGE NOTES

The Effects Of Opening Psychics.

By ELY CULBERTSON

Opening psychics in the first hand are usually absurd bids which result only in undermining partner's confidence. Like all bad bids, however, they occasionally accomplish rather extraordinary things, particularly when the opponents are not sufficiently wide-awake to apply
the Rule of Eight.

Mr. Joseph E. Cain of Indianapolis won the American Whist League Pair Championship in Cleveland last June. In that event he was paired with Mr. Walter J. Pray, a player with a decided aversion to unsound bids, and Mr. Cain a distinctly imaginative player, was obliged to play throughout the entire tournament without using a single psychic. It is possible that the strain was too much for him, as shortly afterwards he turned into one of the most frequent bidders of every known form of psychic,
and, when not playing with Mr.
Pray, obtained a reputation for bizarre results.

On a recent visit to New York
Mr. Cain found himself in a Rubber game at Crookford's. He began experiencing a run of adverse cards, and, growing tired of continually passing, he finally decided in favour of an aggressive campaign of psychics, which resulted in a saving of several thousand points. The following is an example, which,
strange as it may seem, was not even of his best results:

GIANT TELESCOPE TESTED.

£30,000 Instrument At Bloemfontein.

WONDERS EXPLAINED.

Bloemfontein.
Weighing 20 tons, and costing £30,000, the biggest telescope in the Southern Hemisphere, erected at Mazelspoort near Bloemfontein by the Boydon station of the Harvard University, has been tested and has been able to detect objects in the Southern Hemisphere that have never been observed before. Under favourable conditions the telescope, which is fitted with a 60-inch reflecting mirror, is able to bring an object 2,000 times
nearer the eye.

Dr. J. Paraskavopoulos, Director of the Observatory, explaining the advantages of the new telescope, said, "The distance we expect to reach is incomprehensible in terms of miles. Scientifically expressed we expect to reach distances, which light, with its speed of 186,000 miles a second, would take more than 200,000,000 years to span."
The 60-inch reflecting telescope can photograph a light of one candle-power at any distance up to 4,500 miles. — Reuter.

"THE KING'S CUP."

"The King's Cup" is an "air thriller" based on a story by Sir Alan Cobham, having as its theme the progress of civil aviation in England and coming to a climax in the Annual Air Race round Britain.

In order to present authentic scenes of the King's Cup "Air Derby," British and Dominions actually filmed the race when it took place recently. In addition, two 'planes which figure in the picture were entered in the race. One, a Puss Moth, was entered by its owner, Lt. Com. Geoffrey Rodd, who also flew it. The other, a Hawker Tom Tit, was entered by Herbert Wilcox, Director of Productions to British and Dominions. The navigator of the 'plane was Harry Milton, himself an ex-member of the R.A.F., who plays the male lead in the film. Thus, "The King's Cup" will include absolutely authentic shots of the race.

The fact that the King's Cup is raced round Great Britain gives us some wonderful English scenery, while pains were taken to secure extremely thrilling air sequences.

Dorothy Bouchier, the star of "Carnival," heads the cast of "The King's Cup." Harry Milton plays opposite her, and they are supported by William Kendall, and Rene Ray.

HARRY MILTON ENJOYED HIS FLYING STUNTS.

"I could write for a long time of the experiences I had during the filming of 'The King's Cup'—how I flew one day with a crack across the cylinder head—how I took Dorothy up for the first time and we came across some air pockets—how Dorothy tried to smile at hundred and twenty miles an hour and got her face blown sideways—how I had to play hide and seek with five thunderstorms on day and then got caught between two of them—how Squadron-Leader Helmore (an ex-Schneider pilot) and I flew one of the film 'planes' in the real King's Cup race last year, and couldn't hear for the next four days because we'd taken off the exhaust manifold to get extra speed.

KENYA GOLD DISCOVERIES

British £2,000,000 Loan
To Palestine.

London, Yesterday.
Sir Philip Cunliffe Lister, in referring to the Kenya gold discoveries in the House of Commons yesterday, said that new areas were being developed.

An ordinance of a drastic kind with the gold mining community was welcomed as it ensured that undesirable persons should not prospect in those reserves. Liberal compensation for temporary disturbance was being paid to the natives.

Dealing with Palestine he said that the British Government had concurred with the decisions of the High Commissioner's tribunal of inquiry regarding the settlement of displaced Arabs.

It was proposed that the Palestine Government's extensive programme of public works and the re-settlement of displaced Arabs should to a large extent be financed by a loan of £2,000,000.

The British Government were satisfied that without drawing on Exchequer balances the financial resources of Palestine were adequate to provide for the service of a loan and to afford full security for the capital. It was proposed that the loan should receive the formal guarantee of the British Government.

The public works will include the Haifa water supply and drainage schemes, and hydrographic survey and improvement of village water supplies.—British Wireless Service.

NANKING CRUISER IN SHANGHAI.

North, but as they are loyal to the Southwest it is impossible to change the minds of the naval officers.

Appropriations for the support of three cruisers have been fixed by the military authorities. Interviewed by press representatives, Captain Chang Chin-yu, Chief of Staff of the Whampoa squadron, stated that Rear-Admiral Keung Sai-yuen has submitted a list of officers and men to the Southwest Political Council.

Captain Chang said that the three cruisers were still anchored off Whampoa. Regarding the three gunboats Yung Hsueh, Chu Yu and Hal Ou, which were said to be proceeding to Canton, he intimated that these gunboats had no intention of coming South.

"There is no doubt that Ning Hai, Hal Yung and Yat Sen are trying to intercept the three gunboats," Captain Chang held. "When the Ning Hai was in Hong Kong waters, no representative was sent to the Hal Chi with the object of urging us to return north."

Vice Admiral Chang Chi-ying, head of the Canton Naval Patrol, made an inspection of the gunboats in Whampoa and delivered an address to the officers and ratings. Admiral Chang then boarded the three cruisers and exchanged greetings with their captains and officers.—Central Press.

FOUR POWER PACT SIGNED.

Article Three of the Pact lays down that in the case of failure of the Disarmament Conference, the four Powers consent to find a solution for the unsolved problems.

Article Four states that the four Powers may likewise consider together economic questions in which they have common interest in Europe.

Article Five fixes the duration of the Pact to 10 years, renewable for a further 10 years, unless notice is given at the end of the eighth year.

CONFERENCE WORK AT GENEVA

LEAGUE DELEGATES MAY CONCLUDE PACTS

PITTMAN STILL OPTIMISTIC OF FINAL SILVER AGREEMENT

LONDON, YESTERDAY.

THE DATE OF THE REASSEMBLY OF THE WORLD ECONOMIC CONFERENCE IS OPEN TO CONJECTURE, BUT THE FAVOURITE THEORY IS THAT THE FRAMEWORK COMMITTEES WILL RETURN TO GENEVA WITH THE SECRETARIAT AND IN THE ABSENCE OF A DEFINITE SOLUTION TO THE STABILISATION PROBLEM BY AUTUMN, ADVANTAGE WILL BE TAKEN OF THE PRESENCE OF THE WORLD DELEGATES OF THE LEAGUE ASSEMBLY TO HOLD A MEETING AND SET SEAL ON SUCH AGREEMENTS, NOTABLY REGARDING VARIOUS COMMODITIES, AS MAY HAVE BEEN REACHED.

The World Economic Conference Sub-Committees and Committees have been asked to conclude their work not later than July 21. It is anticipated that the final plenary meeting of the Conference, to decide its future, will be held on July 26 or 27.

Senator Key Pittman in an interview with "Reuter" on the subject of Thursday's silver meeting, explained that the basis of the Dutch objection was that there were points in the resolution which the Dutch felt might imperil their silver payments. He was sure the necessary changes could be made in the resolution on conferring with the Dutch delegate, M. Beyen.—Reuter.

International Bank Co-Operation.

NO U.S. OPPOSITION TO PROPOSALS.

LONDON, YESTERDAY.

Three resolutions have been adopted by the World Economic Conference Sub-Committee on permanent measures for the re-establishment of an international monetary standard.

The first deals with the provision of an international gold standard.

The second declares that the Bank of International Settlements should play an increasingly important part in the co-operation of central banks, not only by improving contact, but also as an instrument for common action.

The third emphasises that importance of adapting central banks of certain agricultural countries to the special economic conditions of those countries.

There was general surprise when the Americans spoke against neither the first or second of the resolutions.

Fuller Details Of Resolutions.

AN INTERNATIONAL GOLD STANDARD.

LONDON, YESTERDAY.

The resolutions relating to the working of central banks were adopted practically without discussion by the Sub-Committee of the World Economic Conference dealing with permanent measures for financial reconstruction.

The first resolution is: "The Conference considers it essential, in order to provide an international gold standard with the necessary mechanism for satisfactory working, that independent central banks with requisite powers and freedom to carry out an appropriate currency and credit policy should be created where developed countries have not at present an adequate central banking institution."

The second resolution reads: "The Conference wish to re-affirm the declaration of the previous Conference the regarding the great utility of close and continuous co-operation between central banks. The Bank for International Settlements should play an increasingly important part not only by improving contact, but also as an instrument of common action."

The third resolution, after taking note of the Rumanian suggestion that central banks of certain

FOUR NATIONS OBSERVE CONVENTION.

LONDON, YESTERDAY.

The United States, Japan, the Netherlands and Norway are the only Governments still remaining parties to the International Convention for the abolition of imports and exports prohibitions and restrictions, stated the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Captain Anthony Eden, in the House of Commons yesterday.

All other signatories had attached conditions to their ratifications, which were unfulfilled.—Reuter.

BRITAIN IN FINAL.

On Friday Hughes and Perry beat Adrian Quist and Don Turnbull by 7-5, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

Only 2,000 were present in threatening weather when the players took the court.

Hughes made many weak returns, but served aces of amazing pace. Perry was good in interception at the net and his smashes were more decisively executed than those of Hughes.

During the match Perry appeared to have strained his right shoulder which he repeatedly rubbed.

Both Australians foot-faulted. Quist lobbed and smashed like a champion and was clearly the better of the pair.

The first eleven games with the service until the British pair broke through to take the first set at 7-5.

Earlier Results.
J. Crawford (Australia) beat H. W. Austin 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3.
F. J. Perry (Britain) beat V. McGrath 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

YAUMATI SUICIDE.

The body of Wan Hai, a Chinese widow, aged 57, was found hanging in the cockpit at No. 40 Cochrane Street, Yaumati yesterday evening. The police suspect the woman of having committed suicide.

agricultural countries should be adapted to their special economic conditions, expressed the opinion of the Sub-Committee, that local conditions would, to a very large extent, determine the resolutions to be adopted, and suggested that if any countries desired advice, such requests made would be considered by an international organisation specially competent to advise on them.—British Wireless Service.

Jump will not frighten our motors, however, for they have a cruising range of over 4,000 kilo-metres. Only thick fog can beat us to it."

Four Italian destroyers were instructed to patrol the waters between Cape Farewell and the Strait of Belle Isle while two submarines and two steam trawlers ply the Reykjavik-Sandwich Bay tract as far east as the southern tip of Greenland. If any of the Savoia-Marchetti planes had been compelled to make a forced landing, the naval units would have been able to extend immediate help.

Trawlers Patrol Sen.

In all, six steam trawlers were chartered by the Italian Government from the Boston Deep Sea Fishing & Ice Co., Ltd., of Fleetwood, early last month. When the vessels sailed from their home port several weeks ago, each carried officers of the Italian Air Force and crews of 10 Fleetwood fishermen. The officers controlled the navigation, meteorological observation, and wireless communications and were, on departure, to stay away at sea for at least three months—ample time for the armada's return flight being calculated. They first made a trip to St. John's Newfoundland, but later received orders to patrol the sea between Greenland and Newfoundland.

The submarines, besides keeping close at hand in case of emergency, have highly perfected telegraphic apparatus installed on board. Some of these sets were used only as signalling media whereby the air armada was to be in a position to find out if it had deviated from the chosen route over the Atlantic more than is warranted in order to reach Labrador as near time as possible.

Leaders Decision Supreme.

In case of bad weather, General Balbo held power to decide whether it was advisable to return to Iceland or effect a forced landing preferably in Cape Farewell in the Bay of Friedriksdal, Greenland.

All of the pilots taking part in the Rome-Chicago flight are officers, excepting one named Ireneo Moretti, who is non-commissioned. Moretti took part in the last formation flight to South America but refused a promotion on his return for reasons of his own. Each crew is composed of two pilots, a radio-operator and mechanic. Commander Stefano Cagna is again General Balbo's assistant pilot in this flight.

With General Balbo in command of the flight are Commander Cagna, General Giuseppe Valle, and Commander Mario Ullisse Longo.

The flying boats are of the same make as those used two years ago for the formation flight to South America. These are known as "Savoia 55" and capable of reaching 240 kilometres an hour.

Food for flight consisted chiefly of butter, ham, cheese, egg sandwiches, and fruit. Mineral water, chocolate and milk kept warm in thermos bottles were the only liquids allowed. Alcoholic beverages were strictly forbidden.

Research Objective.

General Balbo has repeated on twice as large a scale a similar feat accomplished when he flew at the head of 12 airplanes from Italy to South America more than two years ago. Eleven of his planes succeeded in reaching Rio de Janeiro, arriving January 15, 1931.

The machines on the present flight are similar to those used in the South American trip.

Balbo chose the northern course on his way to America because he believes this is the logical route for commercial flying across the Atlantic. He hopes to gain valuable material for aerial research from the flight.

His objective has always been to derive some concrete lessons from for national defense or for the pre-emptive squadron formations, either motion of aeronautical knowledge in general.
